

Engaging Parents

Oakland Parents Together is dedicated to the idea that parents are the key to making schools work, that an alliance between teachers and parents is the key reform that our school system needs. Research shows that students do better in school when their parents are engaged. It is also true that teachers are better able to reach their students if they have a relationship with their parents, an authentic partnership. Oakland Parents Together can help parents, teachers, administrators, and schools facilitate that partnership.

What OPT can do for YOU

The mission of Oakland Parents Together (OPT) is to organize and empower parents to advocate for our children as full partners in the Oakland public schools. We've been organizing in Oakland since the year 2000 and have chapters and programs at many Oakland schools. In the service of this mission, we offer the following programs to parents and schools:

Family Art Day at Westlake Middle School

- Parenting Classes
- Parent Organizing
- Tutoring

Parenting Classes

1. Five week workshop series for parents, teachers, and students on Discipline and Communication.
2. Eight week class for parents on all aspects of parenting.
3. Help design your own program

Our classes and workshops emphasize mutual listening.

One-to-one Tutoring at Sankofa Academy

Parent Organizing

If your school has no active parent group or School Site Council, we will help organize both. We train parents to become organizers themselves and engage other parents.

Tutoring

We have developed a highly effective Third Grade Intensive Support program which can help bring all third graders up to grade level in reading and math and thereby avoid a lot of problems in the future. Our program provides one-to-one tutoring both during school and after school and acts as a link between those programs. We work closely with the parents and teachers to develop personalized programs for each student
